Sand Ridge:

Sand Ridge is situated in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains featuring gently rolling countryside, dramatic elevation changes, unique wetlands and a plentiful mix of mature hardwoods. "Sand Ridge was designed to look like an old style golf course, one that had been there for a long time...It's only logical that sand would be a dominant feature of the course, situated adjacent to a sand quarry."

"The 350 acres I've been given here is one of the best pieces of land for a golf course I've seen in the country. Sand Ridge is a spectacular golf course...golf at its finest."

Tom Fazio, Golf Course Architect
